STABBED TO THE HEART.

A COLD-BLOODED MURDER AT SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

Suspicious Character Arrested at London, O., After an Exciting Chase—Other Parties in Custody, and More Arrests to Follow—Surrounded in Mystery.

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 5.—Dennis Mahoney, a railroad watchman at the I. B. & W. target at High street bridge, was brutally murdered at an early hour Sunday morning. He was found lying beside the track which extends from the east end of High street bridge to the O. S. railroad yards. He had a deep wound in the heart, evidently made by a keen dirk, and a deep gash on the muscle of the arm, laying it bare to the bone for a space of about four inches.

The news was first given at about five o'clock in the morning by a colored boy, who arrived in a breathless state at the station house and informed Col. Datze that he had discovered a dead man near the Ohio Southern yards. He was closely questioned, and the patrol wagon was sent out on his information. The body was found in the spot designated by the boy. It was taken to the coroner's office, and later to the unfortunate man's home, on Gallagher street, between High and Washington, where he has been living with his sister. The body was stiff and cold when found.

It is probable that the murder was committed between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning. Several parties state that they saw Mahoney on the levee after midnight. It is known now that he was in company with several men at about that time. The cause of the murder is not clear. It is not known that Mahoney had any great sum on his person, although it is surmised that he had a check for several hundred dollars.

Several arrests have been made on suspicion. Pat Doyle was arrested at London, O., and S. McCann was arrested on the road this side of London. He claims he was walking home from Columbus.

James McKenzie, who claims Troy as his home, was arrested on suspicion, and charged with carrying concealed weapons. He had a long, wicked dirk. George Hazel was also arrested, and more arrests will follow. The police are getting the names of those who were with the murdered man when last seen.

Mahoney was a single man, and his former home was at Urbana. He was of a peaceable disposition, and respected by his associates.

BASE BALL.

Standing of the Clubs in the American Association and League Race.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—The championship race in the American Association is just now more interesting than it has been at any time since the season opened. The champion St. Louis Browns have not had an interrupted run of victories, and in consequence the Baltimore team, which has recently been playing good ball, has closed up on them materially. They are now a good second, and Cincinnati stands fairly well fortified to third place. The following table shows the standing of the different teams:

Church Trouble Growing Serious.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 5.—The controversy between Bishop Hogan and several priests of this diocese is growing more bitter. Very serious charges against the bishop are made by Father Hines. He states in substance that the priests are so cowed by the bishop's methods that they dare not voice their sentiments. He cites numerous alleged instances where the bishop, controlled by blind rage, offered priests gross indignities, even he charged, going so far as to kick them down stairs. He declares that he can prove by documentary evidence that the bishop perjured himself lately on the witness stand. The probabilities are that the whole matter will be taken to Rome for settlement soon.

Court House Burned by Lightning.

EMPORIA, Kas., July 5.—The Lyon county court house at this place was struck by lightning early Sunday morning and almost totally destroyed. The gas meter was torn from its place by the bolt. The gas immediately ignited and set fire to the building. The sheriff and his family occupied a portion of the basement and five prisoners were in another portion used as a jail. Mat Willhite, a son of the sheriff, and Mrs. Wind, one of the prisoners, were prostrated by the shock and remained insensible for over an hour. The other prisoners were badly scared, as there was some delay in releasing them. Their screams could be heard for several blocks. The building is a wreck, but will probably be patched up.

New York Central Labor Union.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The Central Labor Union Sunday boycotted the Moss Manufacturing company (stone and marble) at Wesley, R. I. A petition of the stone founders and molders of Troy for a boycott against Fuller, Warren & Co., of Troy, and their agents, Hallett & Co., New York, was referred to the arbitration committee. One of the speakers at the meeting was Victor Delahaye, a delegate of the French government to study machinery and the labor question in America. He said that in his report he had the loaning by the French government of 6,000,000 francs to the textile workers of France for a co-operative enterprise, the loan to be paid back in sixty annual installments.

BRUTAL MURDER.

A Quarrel Over $1.05 Results in a Farm Laborer's Head Being Blown Off.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 5.—George Turner, owner of Valley Falls Cotton factory, and one of the wealthiest citizens and largest farmers in Spartanburg county, is a fugitive from justice, for whose apprehension Governor Richardson has advertised a reward of $150. Turner had in his employ as a farm laborer a poor, friendless German named Julius Metzka, who had recently arrived in this country. Last Sunday morning Metzka, having been offered more lucrative employment elsewhere, went to Turner's office for settlement. A dispute arose about $1.05. Turner seized a heavy stick, with which he threatened to strike the German. The latter picked up an ax to defend himself, but put it down upon Turner's promise not to strike him, and then went away.

In the afternoon Metzka went up to the window of Turner's office, and in a respectful manner asked him if he would settle with him then, as he desired to go away early next morning. Turner, for a reply seized a shotgun, pointed it through the window at Metzka and fired, blowing off the entire top of his head, and scattering his brains on the side of the house and over the ground, where in a few minutes they were eaten by chickens. Turner went about his business as usual, and no attempt was made to arrest him until two days after the murder, when he had fled.

The Ball Game at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 5.—The Louisville St. Louis game was interrupted on account of rain in third inning. After the rain had subsided, Umpire Young called time and ordered the game to proceed. The St. Louis club refused to play any more, giving as an excuse that the grounds were too wet. The umpire then gave the game to the Louisville club by a score of 9 to 0. The Louisville club got Hudson's gauge and were batting him very hard. Browning made a home run in the first inning and a three base hit in the second, and the St. Louis batters could do nothing with Ramsey. The game will be protested by St. Louis. The St. Louis club were hissed as they left the grounds.

Refused to Umpire.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 5.—"Mark Twain" and the Rev. Thomas K. Beecher were advertised to umpire an old-fashioned game of base ball in this city Saturday afternoon. The mayor and other representative men of the city played in the game, but neither Clemens or Beecher acted as umpire. "Twain" said he could not make a martyr of himself, notwithstanding the fact that he would be glad to perish in a good cause, and took a seat by Mr. Beecher in the grand stand. "Twain" used a big fan in a vigorous manner and said that he would encourage the players with his presence, but he must refuse to go out in the sun.

A Nine Hour Tie Up.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 5.—The Nostrand avenue street car line was tied up for nine hours Sunday, owing to the dissatisfaction of the men and Inspector Shay, who they claimed had unjustly discharged several drivers. The president of the road after investigation, agreed to remove Shay and restore the drivers, and the men returned to work. The strike cost the company about $2,500.

Farmer's Fatal Quarrel.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., July 5.—Two farmers named George Morris and John Spitzer, became involved in a quarrel while returning from a dance Sunday morning. Suddenly the latter drew a revolver and shot Morris, inflicting a wound which will prove fatal. Spitzer was lodged in jail here to escape being lynched.

Chicago Cracker Company Embarrassed.

CHICAGO, July 5.—The Chicago Cracker company, William Reed president, was closed by the sheriff. Internal dissensions and too sharp competition from a pool of the big concerns in the business are given as the cause of the company's embarrassment. Liabilities, $16,000; assets nominally $21,000.

Drowned While Bathing.

MT. VERNON, O., July 5.—Joseph Austin, colored, about twenty years old, was drowned yesterday evening about five o'clock in the Kokosing river, while swimming. He was accompanied by several other boys, who were too much scared to try to rescue him. The body was recovered.

A Sunday Blaze.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The buildings 54 and 56 Franklin street and 77 White street, occupied by J. Q. Preble & Co., envelope and blank book manufacturers, were gutted by fire Sunday morning. Preble & Co. have about $100,000 on stock and machinery, but are insured. Loss on building, $18,000.

Suicide Caused by Domestic Trouble.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 5.—John Kiefer, ex-marshal of Belmont, a suburb of this city, committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself through the heart. For two years past he and his wife have had considerable trouble, which finally resulted in his self-murder.

Funeral of Mrs. Hamilton Fish.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Hamilton Fish took place Sunday from St. Mark's church. Dr. J. H. Ryland, of that church, and other clergy officiated. John Jacob Astor and John Jay were among the pallbearers. The interment will be at Garrison.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 5.—In a fight yesterday at the Italian camp at Amherst

Jimmy Lonce was killed and his brother, Haskell Lonce, wounded by shots from a revolver by an Italian known as "Joe." The murderer was out over the head with a pickaxe, but succeeded in making his escape after washing the blood from his wound. He is thirty-six years old, five feet six inches high, and had a heavy brown mustache. No cause for the melee can be learned.

A Tiger Keeper's Misfortune.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 5.—Dan Rice, a keeper of the tigers cage in a circus, while attending to the cage yesterday morning, caught his arm in the bar and before he could extricate himself, one of the animals seized the arm and tore it from its socket and then clawed the unfortunate man's eye out.

WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

NO EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS LIABLE TO BE CALLED.

The President and Secretary Fairchild Not Yet Persuaded that an Extra Session is Necessary—The Present Financial Situation Does not Demand It.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—There has been a great deal of pressure brought to bear upon the administration in favor of an extra session of congress in October next, but up to this time, the President and Secretary Fairchild have not been persuaded that such an expenditure of public funds as an extra session would involve, will be justifiable. Secretary Fairchild is very emphatic in stating his opinion, that the financial situation will not be such as to demand an extra session. He has no fears of embarrassment as a result of an unmanageable surplus.

The secretary cannot order in the four and a half or the four per cent. United States bonds for redemption, because they do not mature, the four and a half per cents for four years, and the four per cents for twenty. But the government could go into the market and buy them in at the market's price. Of the secretary's power to invest the surplus in that way, there is no doubt in the mind of the secretary, and very little doubt anywhere. It seems clear enough that this power was given to him in section two of the Sunday civil appropriation act, approved March 3, 1881.

That section reads: "That the secretary of the treasury may at any time apply the surplus money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, or so much thereof as he may consider proper, to the purchase or redemption of United States bonds. Provided, that the bonds so purchased or redeemed shall constitute no part of the sinking fund, but shall be cancelled."

It appears that the secretary may either borrow money on bonds or buy United States bonds with money; for section 3700 of the revised statutes says: The secretary may purchase coin with any of the bonds or notes of the United States authorized by law upon such terms, and at such rates as he may deem most advantageous to the public interest.

A statement prepared at the treasury department, shows that during the month of June the money circulation of the country was expanded to the extent of $2,664,840. The circulation of gold coin and national bank notes was contracted, but this was more than offset by the expansion of the silver certificate circulation.

The President and Wife.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland have been domiciled at Oak View since the beginning of the week, and will remain there until the departure for the northern trip which was recently decided upon. The president drives in to the executive mansion every morning and out to the country seat in the evenings. The life at Oak View is very quiet and uneventful, the current order of things being only broken in upon now and then by one or two shagging carriage loads of strangers from the rural districts who come to Washington imbued with the idea that their visit would be incomplete without a thoroughly exhaustive view of the president's country home.

Could Finally Get There.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 5.—The most astonishing bit of legislation ever enacted in this city occurred last week. The Merchants' Bridge & Terminal company, which has been fighting for a franchise for six months, every move being bitterly contested by the Gould element, finally pushed its bill through the municipal assembly in the early part of the week. The passage was hailed by press and people as a great victory, and congratulations were in order. At a subsequent meeting, however, the assembly in session passed the vote by which the bill had passed, Gould having carried a majority of the body since Tuesday. A revolution in the local government is threatened.

Poisoned by Eating Ice Cream.

CONNEAUT, O., July 5.—At a church social Saturday night at Amboy, near this place, there were nearly two hundred people poisoned by eating ice cream. All that part of the stuff were made more or less sick. All the doctors from this place were summoned to wait upon the sick ones and give it as their opinion that all will pull through. Some think the trouble was with the extract, and others are of the opinion that some miscreant put something of a poisonous nature in the cream. Those affected were seized with violent attacks of vomiting and purging.

Carried a Bullet Twenty-two Years.

PARSONS, Kan., July 5.—W. W. Dentler, of this city, has just passed away from the effects of a gunshot wound received in a skirmish near Richmond, Va., April 6, 1865. He belonged to the Fifty-third Pennsylvania regiment, second corps. A postmortem examination was held to-day and disclosed the fact that the ball had passed through the second rib on the left side, cut a groove out of one side of the heart, thence through the left lung and lodged near the vertebra, where it became encysted and remained until now. Dentler having carried it over twenty-two years.

New York, July 5.—Mrs. John Callan,

CHICAGO CRIMES.

How Sunday Morning Was Ushered in at the Windy City.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Sunday morning in this city was ushered in with the instant killing of one man, a deliberate attempt at murder by a young tough, and the fatal stabbing of two brothers. William Fisher and Jack A. Amundson, the latter a cowboy, exhibiting with Bronch Jack's "Wild West" show, were in a disreputable house about 2 o'clock in the morning. The latter was carelessly handling a revolver, when the weapon exploded. The bullet struck Fisher in the eye, killing him instantly. Amundson says he had no idea the weapon was loaded with ball, as they only use blank cartridges in their exhibition.

About 1 o'clock John and Gustave Oknor, two brothers, were stabbed while in front of 231 East Division street by an unknown man. It is expected both will die. The assailant escaped, and as the wounded men are unconscious nothing can be learned as to the cause of the trouble.

The third crime was committed by Jack Healy, a young ruffian who resided at 264, Hickory street. About midnight he was amusing himself, while seated on the rear porch of his father's house, by shooting off a pistol. Ferdinand Pennerose, who lives on the floor below, requested him to stop, as the noise was startling his (Pennerose's) baby. Healy, without a word, went down stairs and shot the remonstrant, the bullet entering below the ribs and locating near the spine. He may recover. Healy escaped.

Serious Wreck.

WABASH, Ind., July 5.—A bad wreck on the Chicago & Atlantic road is reported from Laketon, this county. While the east bound freight train, No. 30, was coming down the hill at Laketon, the trucks of a car in the rear of the train left the rail, and the shock broke the train in two places. The engineer endeavored to get out of the way, and pulled out at a lively speed down to the bridge at Laketon. Here the two sections following crashed into the engine, and five cars were thrown into the water and fifteen others were wrecked. A portion of the bridge also gave way, and no trains can pass now until it is rebuilt. The loss to the company is heavy, though no one was injured.

A Young Lady Drowned.

ZANESVILLE, O., July 5.—There was a terrible accident at McConnellsville last night, by which Miss Amy Grimes lost her life. Hector McLean, the operator of the Zanesville & Ohio river railroad, had his wife, the two Misses Grimes and Charles Andrews out boat riding. The boat was struck by a barge being towed by the steamer Bessie Siler, and the whole party was thrown into the water. All but Amy Grimes were rescued and she was carried under the boat and drowned. The drowned girl is a daughter of Rev. Wm. Grimes, pastor of the Presbyterian church at McConnellsville, and he is at present in Indiana attending a church meeting.

A Mother's Fatal Mistake.

SPERMSET, Ky., July 5.—The little two-year-old child of Mrs. John Vaughn, living near this place, was accidentally poisoned yesterday morning. The mother of the babe had been very ill for some time, and the attending physician prescribed small doses of morphine for relief. The child was taken suddenly ill, and the mother, not knowing what the powders contained, gave the child a small portion of one. She became violently ill soon afterward and died before a physician could be procured.

Done Up in a Bank.

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—August Benswinger, a prominent attorney, was badly beaten up in a fight Saturday, at the Fifth National bank. He first got into a quarrel with the cashier, C. C. Orelus, over some bank transactions in which he was told that he could not work a blackmailing scheme on that bank. He answered with a blow on the cashier's nose, and was then beaten up so badly that his friends would hardly be able to recognize him. He claims that the whole bank force jumped on him.

The Shock Killed Her.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 5.—Mrs. Mary Whitaker dropped dead at her home in Carroll county. Her husband, H. N. Whitaker, was arrested recently, charged by Rev. Mr. Wilson with having murdered the minister's father in Overton county, Tennessee, seven years ago. Mrs. Whitaker died upon being told of her husband's apprehension. Whitaker will be taken to Tennessee this week for trial.

McGlynn Not Ex-Communicated.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Although Sunday was the day set as the limit of Rome's forbearance of Dr. McGlynn's course, and it was expected that the sentence of ex-communication would be sent forth, no pastoral letter of any kind was read in any of the Catholic churches touching the subject, nor was there the slightest reference made to it.

Point for Milkmen and Food Dealers.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 5.—The court of appeals has decided that it is not a good defense for a milkman who has sold impure milk to plead that he did not know it was impure, and that it is his duty to know the quality of his milk. The decision, it is believed, will apply in cases of all persons who sell adulterated food of any kind.

Fratricide.
